Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar composition, proportion, and preparation, curative powers far superior to any other article.
A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:
To Get
"In an old store where I used to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what

AN OLD-TIME LOCOMOTIVE.
Rescued from the scrap-heap, the 1811 "Great Eastern" is now being restored to its former glory.
A large, well-made locomotive is an object of admiration to all who have an opportunity to closely examine the marvelous mechanism of this wonderful machine. It is a perfect masterpiece of the days when railways were in their infancy, and the locomotives were not so large, nor nearly so handsome as they now are.
In the '50s engines were much smaller than they are at present, and were generally used for hauling freight cars.
A great many of these old engines are still in use by railroads, despite the fact that it is commonly supposed that the modern machinery gives out in a certain number of years. Many have been rebuilt, and are still in service. Some while others are used in hauling light suburban trains; but the greater majority of them are lying in the "scrap-yards" at the companies' shops. One of these old locomotives, with quite a history, although almost forgotten, is the "Great Eastern," built about 1857, and is now being restored to its former glory.

What is
CASTORIA
Castoria is Dr. Sam'l Fitch's old, harmless and quick cure for Infants' and Children's Complaints. Superior to Castor Oil, Purgative or Narcotic Syrup. Children cry for Castoria. Millions of Mothers bless Castoria.
Castoria cures Colds, Constipation, Stomach, Headaches, Eruptions, Dysentery, Diarrhea, Indigestion, Without narcotic stupefaction.
I recommend Castoria for children's complaints, as superior to any preparation known to me.—J. A. AUSTIN, M.D.,

It Seems Strange.
It seems strange that anyone will make a use of quinine and take their chances of suffering from such distress as fullness of the head, headache, distension, indigestion, irritation, nau-ses, paralysis, etc., when all the good effects of quinine are secured by a use of Smith's Tonic Syrup. No harmful effect ever follows the use of Syrup, and it tastes so good that children ask for it. It has never yet failed to cure a case of chills and fever, even when quinine and other preparations did no good. It is well also to take a dose after any severe exposure as it will keep off all colds and fevers.

WIDE-AWAKE TRADESMEN
There are many white soaps,
each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory."
They are not,
but like
all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take
composition, proportion, and preparation,
curative powers far superior to any other article.
A Boston lady who knew what she wanted,
and whose example is worthy imitation, tells
her experience below:
To Get
pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on
Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other." Hood's
When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling very miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it. I am
